INSPIRED BY NATURE. POWERED BY TECHNOLOGY

WELCOME TO FRUIT LOGISTICA BERLIN

4-6 February 2009

We are very pleased to be able to welcome you to our booth at one of Europe's largest fairs for fruit and vegetables.

We are very anxious to show our products at a Berliner fair for the very first time and we are looking forward to presenting the packing solutions of the future to you.

 octoPACKER™ The machine which is packing all kinds of bagged products in any kind of box, and which will give you increased productivity and reduce your overhead expenses. The octoPacker is a product of innovative thinking with regard to packing, flexibility, and gripping technology.

Too good to be true ... ? Therefore we have decided to bring along an octoPACKERTM as a demonstration model .
You will be given the opportunity to see packing of many various products which is showing the flexibility that we are displaying octoLOADER™ The machine that is able to place fresh foods within several kinds of thermal packing, also in connection with flowpacking of among other things fruit and vegetables.

We are still at the edge of a recession period; however we see the world around us change speed. Now is the time to figure out what has caused the slowing down of the economy and which new doors can be opened for exactly your company.

There is a weak decrease in Danish export, several economists think that Danish competitiveness is very much worsened by relatively high pay increase rates. These are overhead expenses that can be dealt with and reduced by the aid of innovative solutions, which InMoTx among other things can contribute to.

We call it

octoMATION™
ROBOTIC WORKFORCE
